Mr Kovalcikk,

As a lifelong resident of Guilderland, I am gravely concerned about Costco and the Rapp Road proposed development. I feel that traffic in our town has reached peak congestion and that the various projects throughout the town have not been considered as a whole as to the impact of quality of life in our town. I am also concerned that our resources will be negatively impacted as well.

Take, for instance, the multimillion dollar Pryamid corporation who agreed to support two more police officers on our force and now because of the Covid19 crises have reneged on their ability to support these officers for the foreseeable future. How can our traffic, fire department, EMS, and police force support these new projects?

I believe it is time to pause these highly impactful projects and proceed cautiously with a full plan for a reasonable growth of our town.

Cordially,
Margaret Carle
